

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

- 5      An improved breadmaker capable of maintaining the freshness of the bread baked for a period of time. A temperature sensor and a humidity level sensor located inside the breadmaker monitor the ambient conditions inside the baking chamber. In response to these sensors, a controller operates one or more heaters and humidifier to maintain a predetermined temperature and humidity level inside the baking chamber.